Application for a 6-month job seeking residence permit after having obtained Danish authorisation

What can you use this form for?

You can use this form to apply for a 6-month residence permit for job seeking in Denmark after you have obtained Danish authorisation.

Who can use this form?

You can apply for a 6-month job seeking permit if you hold a residence permit with the purpose of obtaining a Danish authorisation.

You may need to apply for a job seeking permit because you were either not granted a 6-month job seeking permit at the same time as your residence permit under the Authorisation Scheme, or because you were granted a job seeking residence that lasts less than 6 months, because your passport will expire soon.

As a doctor or dentist, you only need to apply for a job seeking permit after 5 years, which is the maximum period for an authorisation stay as a doctor or dentist. If you have been granted your first-time permit for 3 years, you must instead apply for an extension of your residence permit under the Authorisation Scheme.

You can read more about job seeking residence permit after obtaining Danish authorisation at newtodenmark.dk/job-seeking-authorisation.

The job seeking residence permit gives you the opportunity to find a job in Denmark, once you have obtained your Danish authorisation.

You are not allowed to work during your job seeking period.

If you are offered a job during your job seeking period, you must apply for a new residence and work permit. You can read more about residence permits based on work on newtodenmark.dk/work and the job change rule on newtodenmark.dk/jobchange.

immigration authorities. The same holds true for any information you later give in connection with an application to extend your residence permit or for a new residence and/or work permit in Denmark.

Some of your data will be registered in the Civil Registration System (CPR). This will in some instances happen immediately when you are granted a permit. In other situations the registration will take place only when you take up residence in Denmark.

Some data, including biometric data, will be registered in the Schengen Information System (SIS) under certain circumstances. This applies if you have been given a time limit for departure in relation to your application or your residence in Denmark. It also applies if you have been banned from the Schengen area.

We process the following categories of data about you:

- General personal data, such as: information about your name, possible civil registration number (CPRnumber), citizenship, occupation, education, marital status, financial information and whether you have committed any legally punishable offences
- Sensitive personal data, such as: health information and biometric data collected for the purpose of establishing your identity.

We can pass on your data to the following recipients:

Personal data will be shared with the relevant authorities in the other Schengen states, when SIRI is legally obliged to do so. These authorities will have access to the information registered in SIS by SIRI when it is relevant to their case processing.

Furthermore, data from SIRIs registers and the CPR register are shared with other relevant authorities or organisations via the Aliens Information Portal (Udlændingeinformationsportalen) if they need the data in order to process aspects of your stay in Denmark.

SIRI shares data when it is necessary in order to exercise our official authority, including when we are legally obliged to share information.

If you lose your residence permit, we will inform your current or previous employers, if any, that you no longer have the right to work. This will happen, if we issue a refusal to an application for a residence permit or to an extension of a residence permit. It will also happen if we revoke your residence permit or if we establish that your residence permit has lapsed. Employers who within the last three months have reported salary payments to you to the income register will be informed.

later date. This means that the data can enter into the decision making process regarding future applications for extension of a residence permit, when revoking a residence permit, for verification and spot checks, when deciding whether a permit has lapsed, in relation to applications for permanent residency and for naturalization and in cases concerning any family members. In practice, this means that SIRI will store your data for the period of your 'lifecycle' – i.e. your entire life. Basic data regarding your stay in Denmark, e.g. when and why you have been granted a residence permit and information on other decisions made by SIRI regarding your residence in Denmark will not be erased.

If you have your fingerprints and facial photo taken for use with your residence card and for identification and identity control, your fingerprints and photo will be stored in the immigration authorities' database.
